FRIGID WAVE NIPS CROPS

Indiana, Illinois And Ohio Report Damage To
Fruits And Wheat

By UNITED PRESS

Temperatures rose throughout the middle west today as an unseasonable cold wave moved eastward toward the Atlantic.

Freezing temperatures dotted the eastern coast with accompanying snow flurries in New York and in Pittsburgh. Warmer temperatures prevailed in the southern Atlantic and gulf states and slight showers were expected.

Temperatures were higher in the Rocky Mountain region and extreme upper Mississippi Valley. Cooler weather extended over the north Pacific states.

Farmers reported that the cold, which averaged 10 to 15 degrees below normal for the season, damaged crops in a belt from Texas to the Canadian border and from the Rockies into the Mississippi valley. The most serious damage was reported in southern Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. Farmers said wheat, early apple and pear crops had been bitten by heavy frosts. Indiana growers said peach, apple and cherry losses would total 85 per cent of anticipated crops.

Charles R. Reed, federal meteorologist at Des Moines, Ia., said heavy frosts and flooded areas along the Mississippi river had damaged the winter wheat, meadows, and pastures.

Readings dropped to four degrees above zero in North Dakota, Minnesota, and Wisconsin yesterday. A low reading of 21 degrees at Chicago yesterday was the coldest day on that date since 1900. Cleveland reported a low of 20 degrees, lowest temperature ever recorded there on April 12.

Rasmussen ranch at Camino in the afternoon.

These demonstration meetings are concluded in the interest of farming in the county by the Farm Advisor and any person interested in the subject matter is welcome to attend the meetings.

The schedule of demonstration meetings on other subjects will be published as the meetings are announced.

NEW SNOW ON SUMMIT BOOSTS INTEREST IN SKING

Two inches of new snow were reported from the Echo Summit Thursday morning to Chamber of Commerce Secretary Wallace M. Ripley and at the time of the report the snowfall continued.

That the storm was general in the higher elevations was indicated by later reports of continuing snowfall at Blair Brothers' mill, above Pacific.

Ripley was informed that the snow is of a type ideal for skiing and that Echo Lake is still frozen over. The snow depth at Echo Lake was reported as 48 inches, capped by the new snowfall.

'39 COUNTY FAIR MAY BE HELD AT NEWLY ACQUIRED SITE

Supervisors And Exposition Committee
Project Major Development Contingent
Upon Continuation Of WPA Employment

It is expected that the new county fair grounds, lately purchased, will be ready for the 1939 fair, August 25, 26 and 27, although it will again be necessary to use temporary structures to house the main exhibits.

Construction at the grounds is going forward as a WPA project. Supervisors P. J. Hall and Cyril Heuser of the park committee of the county board of supervisors are in general charge.

Mothers' Day Picnic Nears

Rescue Center To Have
Entertainment By Summit
Center Dramatic Group

Preliminary preparations for the annual Mothers' Day picnic at Rescue will be advanced at the meeting of the Rescue Farm Center on Friday night at the Tennessee school house, when the center outlines its participation in the event.

The Mothers' Day picnic is held each year at Rescue under joint sponsorship of the United Rescue Grange and the Rescue Farm Center, and the latter group is expected to name its members to the general committee at the Friday night meeting.

In addition to the other business of the evening, Center Chairman Fred Wessels reports that special entertainment has been promised for this meeting. Mr. Wessels was a visitor at the meeting of the Southside Center last week and invited the Summit Dramatic group to visit the Rescue center.

The invitation was accepted, and the players will present two plays, "The Man from Nowhere," and "A Husband for Huldah." The 4-H Club orchestra will assist in the program.

Sun To Be In Eclipse On Next Wednesday

An annular, or ring, eclipse of the sun, which will be seen here and throughout the Pacific Coast, is predicted for April 19th.

The moon, passing directly between the earth and the sun, will block out 50 per cent of Old Sol, as observed here. The maximum eclipse will be observed at Seattle, where 75 per cent of the sun will be hidden by the moon.

Beginning at 6:36 a. m., the phenomenon will reach its peak at 7:34 a. m. and end at 8:40.

Forest Institute Fund Appropriation Urged

Placerville Lions have addressed a telegram to the agricultural subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Appropriations, at Washington, urging upon the committee the importance of adequately providing for a continuance of the work of the Institute of Forest Genetics, which is operated in the Fruit Ridge district as a branch of the California Forest and Range Experiment Station, at Berkeley.

The Geology of El Dorado County was the subject on which P. A. Richards addressed the men's club of the Federated Church at the regular dinner meeting Wednesday night at the church parlors.

The board, at its April meeting, took steps to lease an additional twenty acres adjoining the new site and has an option to purchase the additional ground within the next year.

As is by this time generally known, the new fair grounds is on the right-hand side of U. S. Route 50 as one drives east from Webber Creek, on property purchased several months ago from Loren D. Forni.

Conditioning of the grounds is being done under the technical supervision of County Engineer Don M. Hoffman who has revealed that the fair grounds improvement is being tentatively projected over a three or four year period, contingent upon "if" continuation of the program of the Works Progress Administration.

The ultimate projected development envisions a $100,000 project which can, under favorable circumstances, be accomplished at a cost of about $25,000 to the county, but this will come from the county's share in state pari mutuel funds and not from the county treasury.

The present project will be carried through to completion during the next year and represents a total value of about $25,000. The work which is being done is primary and fits into the ultimate projected development.

The general project provides for a quarter mile arena, grand stand, concession area, stock buildings and corals, exhibit buildings, artificial lake, and a replica of old Hangtown and Hangtown Creek as a roaring camp display.

Stables, an open air dance hall and a museum are also included in the projected development.

Suit Against Lumber Firm Dismissed

The suit for some $3,800 brought by the Unemployment Reserves Commission three weeks ago against the Placerville Lumber Company, to collect alleged arrearage on the unemployment insurance fund, was dismissed in Superior Court on April 1.

We learn that the lumber concern had been granted until March 31 to pay the amount and that the amount was paid as scheduled. The action had been docketed for filing in the event the amount was not paid and, in some manner, actually was filed although payment was made as scheduled.

Dismissal of the action was promptly entered.

It is persistently reported from sources which say they believe their information authentic that Montgomery Ward and Company are planning on a store in Placerville and our inquiry concerning the rumor indicates that there is probable truth in the report.

JANE BARTON DATES SET

Homecraft Institute To
Be Held May 3, 4 and 5
At Shakespeare Club

Jane Barton, favorite home economist of the west, is bringing the Homecraft Institute's Kitchen Carnival to Placerville Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, May 4-4 and 5, under the joint auspices of this newspaper and the Pacific Rural Press.

Last year more than 30,000 homemakers attended the Consumers' Clinic which featured simple research methods for housewives. This year Jane Barton's famous Western Home Economics Chautauqua has gone "Hollywood" and is featuring on the second day at an evening session beginning at 7 p. m. a gay and frivolous Kitchen Carnival at which Jane Barton explains novel way of breaking the routine and drudgery of getting along with families. The first and third days of the meeting will be devoted, Mrs. Barton says, to important new discoveries in homemaking and in turning up the household routine to modern tempo.

In confirming the dates for the Homecraft Institute at Placerville, Mrs. Barton said, "Serious as is the business of making homes and getting along with families, it seems to (Continued on Page 2)

Ski Banquet April 21

Regular Meeting Of Club To Be Held
On Thursday Night

Officers of the Placerville Ski Club announced Thursday morning that the annual banquet of the club will be held Friday night, April 21, at Hotel Raffles.

The club had originally scheduled the dinner to be held on April 14 but when it was found that this date had been chosen for the anniversary dinner of the DeMolay chapter the announcement was withdrawn and the new date is now chosen.

It is expected that the date will be ratified at the club meeting this (Thursday) evening.

The banquet program is being prepared under the direction of an especially appointed committee and is expected to give special prominence to the ski club's plans and hopes for future development in the winter sports area.

Caminoan On Three-Week Vacation, Business Trip

Jess Leitenberger of Camino left the first of the week for a three-weeks' vacation and business trip, which will take him as far east as Cleveland, Ohio.

Going by train over the southern route, he will visit with relatives in Houston, and there go on to Cleveland, where he has made arrangements through the local White Truck dealer, J. H. Rhodes, of the Tourist Garage, to take delivery of a new truck at the factory for use in the business of the Camino Truck Service.

Driving the truck on the return trip through Chicago, Mr. Leitenberger states he will stop over at St. Joseph, Missouri, his old home town, which will be his first visit with friends and relatives there in 23 years. From there he will follow over the Old Pony Express Route home to Camino and Placerville.

PAST PRESIDENTS' NIGHT ON APRIL 24TH FOR EAGLES AUXILIARY

The ladies auxiliary to Placerville Aerie No. 889, F. O. E., held its regular meeting Monday night with President Duella Shepherd in charge and one candidate for membership, Mrs. Lilla Green, was initiated.

Plans were made for holding a Past Presidents' night at the next meeting, on April 24 and committees were named as follows: Refreshments, Mrs. E. Pierroz, Mrs. Pauline Brown and Mrs. Martha Fields; Entertainment, Mrs. Lilly Revaz, Mrs. Mollie Hamilton and Mrs. Georgie Orelli.

The regular card party will be held Thursday evening, April 13, and the refreshment committee includes Mrs. Enid Mart, Mrs. Mary Lyon and Mrs. D. Shepherd.

Quadrillers Boost County

Pioneer Club To Make
Trip To Exposition
In Steamer Race

Twenty-three members of the Pioneer Quadrille Club have arranged to participate in behalf of El Dorado County in the "boat race" to be held Saturday, April 22, between boats racing between Sacramento and Stockton and Treasure Island.

This is according to E. T. Benny, secretary of the club.

The members of the club will make the trip in costume and will share as they have opportunity to do so in the program for the day, for which many special events are planned.

The "race" is between the boats Delta Queen and Delta King. The Queen will leave Sacramento about 8 o'clock on the morning in question and the King will leave Stockton about an hour later.

The day is being developed as "Steamboat Days" at the exposition and special events are planned.

The Pioneer Quadrille Club, which has Don Morton as caller and manager, has a record of having won first prize in every contest in which it has entered in the past four years, according to Mr. Benny. In addition to other lesser honors, the club won first prize last year at the San Joaquin County fair.

The party of twenty-three which has made reservations for the trip in the name of the club includes Mr. and Mrs. Don Morton, C. Morton, C. Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. Benney, C. Needham, W. Blair, Mrs. Blair, Violet Bateman, Mr. and Mrs. Stoltz, W. James, Mrs. Florence Dames, Elmer Porini, William Stultz, Mrs. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Hardy, Mr. and Mrs. Hoover, Dad Morton and Vernon Benney.

HISTORIC BAYLEY HOUSE WAS COMPLETED IN 1862

A quarter mile north of Pilot Hill, on the road between that historic place and Cool, is a reminder of the early 1860s, is the Bayley house, reports a Sacramento paper.

The massive three story brick building is often passed by motorists who are mystified at seeing such a building located in the mountains so far from a large town. There is no marker to indicate what it is.

In 1849 there came to California from Vermont, Alexander John Bayley, on the old ship Edward Everett. From 1851 to 1861 he owned and operated the old Oak Valley House at Pilot Hill. A fire destroyed it and he consequently built the three story brick structure which still stands.

Believing that the Central Pacific railroad would be built close to where he erected the building, Bayley put $20,000 into this massive hostelry, finishing it May 15, 1862. But the dream which he so fondly cherished never came true. The railroad passed many miles to the west. The building he expected to use as a hotel, and in which he expected to entertain hundreds of guests from the eastern states, remained but a house and eventually was abandoned.

The extensively terraced gardens have long since vanished, but the aged oaks and locust trees still remain to shade the entrances to this historic building, which now is a ranch home.

Under the care of Dr. Lester B. Rantz, district attorney Henry S. Lyon is getting along satisfactorily following his recent dental trouble, and has resumed his regular business hours at the courthouse.

$2,569,317 TRIMMED FROM STATE BUDGET IN 2 DAYS

Board Of Equalization Member Declares New Or Increased Taxes Would Be "Harsh Injustice;"
Special Session Threat May Force Compromise

By JOHN W. DUNLAP

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, (UP)—Engulfing administration strategy, an assembly bi-partisan economy bloc today whittled away relentlessly on Gov. Culbert L. Olson's $557,000,000 biennial budget despite thinly-veiled threats of a prolonged or special session.

Outnumbered by a solid front of Republicans and insurgent Democrats, Olson's floor leaders faced a third day of futile argument as amendment after amendment went over the desk.

Only agency to escape the economy axe was the University of California as the Governor's foes pointed to their trimming of $2,569,317 in two days, not including removal of the $72,700,000 relief appropriation for handling as a separate bill.

Unexpected economy support came from the board of equalization when board member Fred E. Stewart declared that although budget cuts were heavy, the board "is willing to pack its part of the load and we hope that other state departments will adopt the same attitude."

The strategy of holding a special session over the legislators' heads was a possible means for the Governor to force a compromise on the budget debacle.

Members of the legislature are paid for only the first 100 days of the session, and a threat by the Governor to refuse to accept the budget, forcing overtime or a special session without pay, might result in salvaging vital points in the Olson financial program.

County Picnic On May 6th

Teachers In Institute
Wednesday Consider
Fair Tour May 4th

Unless it appears advisable that a change be made, the annual county "May Day" picnic will be held at Marcus P. Bennett, Jr., Memorial Park on Saturday, May 6th.

This date was recommended by the county school teachers at an institute meeting at Placerville Grammar school Wednesday afternoon with County Superintendent K. W. McCoy, who also is chairman of the picnic committee.

Superintendent McCoy reports that all teachers in the county grade schools except one attended the meeting.

The teachers also considered plans for an excursion to the world's fair at Treasure Island on May 4th. The proposition is one of several special proposals which have been submitted, wherein a reduced fare is offered on the railroad with a special train, based upon a certain quota of tickets.

Steps to determine whether the proposal is approved by the parents of a sufficient number of pupils to make the excursion possible, and if so to organize the excursion, are being taken.

The meeting also considered revision of the circulating library now operating in some of the county schools.

In addition, representatives of school supply and school book concerns were present and displayed for the teachers books and supplies which the schools may require for their work next year.

E. R. Colvin, representing the Silver-Burdette concern, spoke on "The Philosophy and Method of Modern Textbook Instruction."

The institute meeting convened at 2 o'clock in the grammar school auditorium, the grade schools of the county having been dismissed at noon to make the meeting possible.

"Ideal Vacation Spot" Leased By H. O. Waldron

H. O. Waldron and wife of Placerville have leased Blue Lakes Park, formerly Le Trianon, from the owner, Ray Hoffman, of San Francisco, says The Lakeport Bee. They expect to open for business in about three weeks.

Later on, more cabins are to be built on the recreational grounds. The place is an ideal vacation spot for the weekend guests who wish to enjoy boating, swimming and dancing every Saturday night. The restaurant is also to be opened for summer trade. A number of cabins are already on the grounds, for light housekeeping.

Waldron is looking forward to a good summer vacation business.

Dan Fowler, 21, was booked at the county jail Wednesday evening for an investigation of bad check charges.

FAREWELL SURPRISE FOR FRUIT RIDGE PAIR ON WEDNESDAY

A surprise farewell party was held Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Leavitt of Five-Mile Terrace honoring Mr. and Mrs. Perry O. Hatch of Fruit Ridge, who leave this week to take up their duties at the Consumnes Consolidated Mine, about twenty miles southeast of Placerville.

The party was planned sometime ago by a group of their close friends and proved a complete surprise, as they were visiting at the Leavitt home for the evening.

Games and conversation were enjoyed, after which a pot luck supper was served.

Present in addition to those mentioned were: Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ahlstrom, and three sons, Tuman, Coolidge and Kenneth, and the former's father, C. M. Ahlstrom, all of Pollock Pines; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Mance H. Vaughn, Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Longhurst, Mr. and Mrs. George Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Miller, Mrs. Etta Miller, Mrs. Ana Hartson, Mrs. Dee Narkaus, Randall Jensen, James W. McKinstry, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Longhurst, all of Placerville; Afton McBride of Five-Mile Terrace, and Viola Knapp, of Leslie, Idaho.

Girl's Leg Broken In Wreck Near Folsom

We learn that four of the county young people figured in an automobile wreck near Folsom on March 31, in which Mildred Fisher was the most seriously injured, receiving a broken leg. Rumors were to the effect that her leg was amputated but this is denied.

Miss Fisher with Les Meyers, of Diamond Springs, Betty Farrell and Emmeline Pont were in the car, which crashed into a pole. Meyers was on crutches for a few days following the accident.

THE HOLLYWOOD LAMPLIGHTER

By WILSON BURTT

HOLLYWOOD—Censor sees that slip doesn't slip. In the gay throng of the dance floor scene for "Cafe Society," Madeline Carroll was doing quite a bit of flitting about as the hostess for a "come as you were and when you were" party. The costumes ranged from bath maids to singing together in a picture. A barrel staves and Miss Carroll put everything a contract could call for into her neat little costume which was a very modern old-fashioned slip. Hovering around in the fringes of the set snooped Luigi Luraschi, the studio censor. Luigi's worried expression and ever-present caustic director Ed Griffith to ask him if anything might be wrong.

"I am here," explained Luraschi, "to see that there are no slip-ups on these crazy costumes, and also to see that Miss Carroll's slip does not slip."

Had a very enjoyable three days at the future landing field for straphangers ships which is now taken over by Treasure Island, Inc., San Francisco's own imitable Chamber of Commerce, and Broadway's overflow, who offer us the modern version of a Word's Fair. The ex-hixits are educational and essentially enlightening. In the foreign buildings a very extensive and realistic display of their resources, exports, and physical properties create an atmosphere quite typical of each nation and lends depth and interest to their colorful structures. The Follies, although not particularly outstanding, incorporates some timely gags, spectacular reviews and dancing as found in the better shows on Broadway.

It is unusual to note that an up and coming flicker star actually puts her work before such a unique honor of being presented to the King and Queen of England. Miss Virginia Field, now starring in "The Sun Never Sets," for Universal is the daughter of St. John Field, current King's Councillor. Three times a contract has caused Miss Field to remain in America against her vacation plans thus stalling the greatest and most sought after event in the social life of any British girl. It was not until the other day that a publicity man mentioned the potential box office that would result from the British movie fans if they could be seeing a girl on the screen who was actually of recognized royalty which they so greatly admire. Although Miss Field is unaware of the plans, Universal is seeing to it that she be presented at court in the very near future.

Through the eyes of a Hollywood Robinson Crusoe: Rudy Vallee going hook, line and sinker, for Marjorie Weaver. The reason he frequents her simple little apartment so much is the Weaver family's second asset—Mrs. Weaver's well cooking. So inspired by the title of new picture, "For Love or Money," June Lang purchased a $3500 fur coat to wear in a scene which lasts only forty-two seconds. (She just wants to do everything she can to make the picture a success.) Dean, a Dublin luncheon regularly with Pinky Tomlin. According to the conversation dear and reliable friend of ours says they have been practicing on the side so that those nice producers will be happy to hear something good for a change. Marie Wilson says she has at last fulfilled a lifetime desire by throwing an egg into a whirling electric fan. (It takes a lot more than that to thrill some blondes.) Bob Hope was the most exclusive comic in Hollywood until he broke his record by appearing at the opening of a new factory in Cleveland, O., managed by his older brother. Don't know whether you've heard, but Gene Krupa's signature song which he calls "Apurk-soy," is written by himself, named by himself, and when reversed, the first two syllables spell his name. While working on scenes for "Beau Geste" in Death Valley, Brian Donlevy bought a gold mine near there and is going to rush right back to operate it when shooting is over. Lot of smart salesmen out there too.

"WINGS OF NAVY" FILMED WITH CO-OPERATION OF U. S. NAVY

When one of the major Hollywood film companies produces a navy picture like the Warner Bros.-Cosmopolitan production, "Wings of the Navy," which will be shown on Thursday and Friday at the Empire Theatre, the studio always has a silent partner. The silent partner is the United States Navy.

The film company invests its capital—in the case of "Wings of the Navy," Warner Bros. invested the money and pockets the profits and the box office prestige which comes with such a picture.

The United States Navy invests the time of its officers who go over the film company's script, help to supervise the filming of the story, and who finally sit as a board of ultimate approval on the completed film.

The Navy also provides the planes, or the warships, the guns, buildings, the drill grounds, and the officers and men who man them, in such a picture. And for its investment the navy draws no profits in cash. But it draws something far more important, from the navy's point of view.

The navy reaps its dividends in Excitement like that evidenced in this photograph was created in every village and town through which the Dodge Pan American Good-Will Truck passed on its journey through Mexico and, from Lima, Peru, high into the Andes Mountain country. Here, natives are seen curiously examining the truck and its passengers from the outside world in the Plaza de Armas at Cerro de Pasco—a village 14,000 feet above sea level.

Sports Parade

By HENRY McLEMORE

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., (UP)—When Cletus Ellwood Poffenberger was named Cletus Ellwood Poffenberger his fate was sealed.

When his parents gave him that name 34 years ago they might just as well have tied a tag around his chubby wrist marked: "Destined for the Brooklyn Dodgers."

Now, after many years of unhappiness association with other baseball teams, Cletus Ellwood Poffenberger is with the Dodgers, having been purchased from the Detroit Tigers. During the coming summer he will do his pitching near the banks of the Gowanus Canal, that laughing stream, which, in keeping with the Brooklyn players, wanders meaninglessly around Ebbetts Field.

I wasn't there when Cletus signed his Brooklyn papers but I imagine those that were could hear the fates slapping one another on the back, congratulating themselves, on finally getting Cletus in his proper spot. He must have been on the fates' minds as he vainly tried to fit into such places as Toledo and Detroit.

Cletus must be relieved to have found his niche at last. There can be little doubt that he has known for a long time that he was going to wind up in Brooklyn. Because ever since he reached man's estate—and it took him a little longer than usual, what with the name to carry along—he has been behaving like a Dodger.

Training rules were just something to tack up on the wall to cover a spot on the wallpaper. He could break 'em faster than three managers could think them up. He always found schedules a nuisance, too. This business of being at a certain spot at a certain time was beyond him. He liked to eat, too. He was particularly fond of breakfast, lunch and dinner, and often had three and four of each during the day.

You will notice that in describing Poffenberger's habits I used the past tense. I employed the past tense because when he joined the Dodgers all these habits came to an end. At least Manager Leo Durocher says they did. Manager Durocher says he has thought out a system which will completely reform the young pitcher and make him such a model of deportment that long before mid-season Cletus will be literally swamped with offers to address young ladies' seminars, the Campfire Girls, and Parent Teacher organizations.

Durocher will not disclose his system but several hints concerning it have leaked out. One of my operatives with the Brooklyn team said that Durocher has been in correspondence with a prominent cat-o-nine-tail manufacturer, and also that he has a new piece of luggage, a large wooden box labeled: "Thumb screws. This end up." Durocher is a graduate of the St. Louis Gashouse Gang and his year was a year when the Gashouse Gang was plenty tough.

It will be interesting to see how Leo and Lip and Cletus the Pip get along. It should make good listening, too.

CARD PARTY COMMITTEE

Troop 57

Troop 57 has challenged troop 67 to a softball game at Bennett Park, Saturday, April 15. We hereby warn 67 to eliminate their catcher, for the way we sock the ball, it won't even cross home plate. Why, our bunts go past the outfielders!

After polishing off 67, we'll mix with Diamond, who should be told that that ultra-speedy streak of lighting that zooms past their batters will just be "Zipper" Springer's slow ball. Wait till they see his fast one!

The Bat Patrol has reached New York and has started back, while the rest of the patrols in the "stay-at-home" transcontinental race can be compared to the "green" train man, who, after an especially arduous climb remarked, "Boy, that was a tough climb. If we hadn't kept the brakes on, we might have slid back!"

We are still three or four members short of a full troop, so if any boy wishes to join a good troop, he can enlist now.

We plan to cook our own suppers next Tuesday night, in order to gain much needed cooking experience. We went to Bass Lake and cooked eggs, hamburger, and stew. When we attend the camporal we'll have "pate de foi gras" and other such dishes.—Bill Dillinger.

FRANCE, BRITAIN WILL FIGHT FOR GREECE AND RUMANIA

PARIS, (UP)—France today joined Great Britain in a pledge to fight to maintain the independence of Rumania and Greece and to prevent disturbance of the status quo in the Mediterranean.

BERLIN, (UP)—Allegation of Polish terrorism against Germans in the Polish corridor, a protest by the Danzig government against the dissemination of an alleged anti-German song, and the arrest in Poland of 21 persons described as German Nazis brought sudden tension in relations between Germany and Poland today.

The combination of reports came as the British and French governments made declarations of Mediterranean policy, aimed against an Italian expansionist program at the expense of smaller nations.

Peter D. Conley Dies Of Heart Attack

SAN FRANCISCO, (UP)—San Francisco music lovers today mourned the death of Peter D. Conley, business manager of the San Francisco Opera Company and one of the west coast's most widely known impresarios.

Conley died unexpectedly last night on the eve of his 46th birthday.

A notice of their intended purchase of the site of the Pierce-Arrow Stage Depot from A. L. Richardson, Jr., was recorded at the courthouse on Wednesday by Mr. and Mrs. Chris Hendryson Richardson. It is understood, will return to Camp Richardson, at Lake Tahoe.

The big noise, of course, is our team match with the Amador Club of Jackson, on Sunday, April 15.

This match has been postponed a couple of times because of bad weather but with any kind of luck it will be held Sunday. The postponements were a help to our club as it gave us an opportunity to renew the greens and get the course in fine shape.

It also helped our members to work on their game and Sunday we will have a team that will be hard to beat. These team matches will be a big help to our many beginners as it will give them an opportunity to gallery and learn the different golf shots and the way they are played by the best. So all those who are interested in golf and how it should be played should make it a point to be at the course Sunday.

The matches will not interfere with the play of our other members as it will be arranged to start all of the teams out on the first tee, beginning at 9 o'clock. Those who wish to play at that time may start on Number Seven.

The interest being shown by the women folks in our club and in the game is certainly great. No finer outdoor sport can be enjoyed than golf and it is a beautiful sight to look over the course and see the many varied colors against the beautiful green background.

Some of our new members, Mrs. Thomas Chard, Miss Coralee Anderson, Miss Barbara McKee, Miss Florence Reckers, Mrs. George Ruoff, Mrs. Charles Soracco and Miss Eleanor Scherrer are all enthusiastic golfers.

On Sunday, April 9, a new king was crowned when Leo Barrett won from Ronard Cook 3 and 2 to take first place on the ladder. So he will head the list in the team match with Jackson Sunday.

With Ronard Cook, Leo Burger, F. A. Peterson, J. C. Wilson, Bob Patterson, M. E. Wright, Seth Beach, Bron Smith, R. E. Roberts, Max Davey, M. T. Kelly, Don Goodrich, Ben Larson, Al Bemis, Bill Byrnes, Joe Hearn, Lloyd Cannon, Bob Patterson, Jr., Dr. Lester B. Rantz, Phil Reeg, J. H. Wilson, Perry Tracy, Kay Moore, Harry Jasper and others on hand, we hope to provide plenty of trouble for the visitors.

Bill Byrnes has made himself the most feared player in our club and has made good his threat that a left hander has his place in the game. He made Joe Hearn bite the dust 3 and 2 last Sunday and don't think for a minute that isn't a job. So, look out for Bill!

A match that is sure to bring much happiness and a proportionate share of disappointment is the challenge match between Lindy's Coffee Club and the heavy-weight golfers from the Round Tent.

A challenge has been issued by Harry Rose, of Lindy's to take on any and all of the Round Tenters. Before the challenge was signed and sealed, Mike Roy and George Arnold had accepted with Lester Longhurst as the kingpin.

"Hot" Lindberg, Bert Anderson, Santo Bartulic, Percy Perkins, Harry Rose and Jerry Gilbert, from Lindy's all claim that the rest of the boys on the street had better keep their horns in as they will burn not only their fingers but their clubs also.

It's going to be a great match and we hear reports that some stakes have been posted. Enough to keep both sides hustling.

The Bird Bath

Whether your garden covers an acre, is a tiny bit of earth, or merely a roof garden, it may be made so hospitable to winged songsters that they will return to it eagerly every spring. A spot where they may splash, drink and gossip seems to be the chief attraction and this means a bird bath. It may be an elevated bath of the commercial type, a pool in the ground, or any sort of shallow dish or pan.

Place it near enough to your window that you may have the fun of watching them and yet secluded enough that they may enjoy some privacy. Be sure that it is protected from cats. The best way to prevent its becoming a cruel bird trip is to set it in the open far away from any vantage point from which a cat can jump.

It should not be more than five inches deep, and to accommodate little birds, it is well to have it of varying depths. The hose is a convenience to wash and fill the bath. In hot weather it may be necessary to fill it twice a day. If you are a bird lover, put out the bird bath early in the spring, when returning birds are choosing their new homes.

A Gas Range

Rarely can the buyer find every convenience in one range, but these are desirable features to look for when purchasing a gas stove: an oven insulated on all sides, top, bottom and door; oven heat control to avoid guesswork; a perpetual pilot flame from which all top burners are lighted without matches; economical two-way simmer burners so that a kettle may be brought quickly to the boiling point with a large flame and kept boiling by turning off the large flame and leaving the simmer flame; a giant burner and smaller corners.

The broiler should be far enough below the flame that toast or steak on it will not catch fire readily, and that the broiling pan may be smokeless. The burners should be of rust-resisting metal or finished with enamel. The cabinet should be of an attractive material, easy to keep clean. Good lighting over the range and a clock are added conveniences. An economy feature is the sunken "well" which one uses as a fireless cooker.

Economy Pointers

Laziness, self-indulgence and luxury habits account for a portion of money which might be saved to the family purse. Teach the family to save work by preventing the need for so much of it, to be careful not to soil clothing unnecessarily and so to require more laundry, to wait on themselves and not demand help from others, to live simply and not expect elaborate furnishings.

Increasing expense and increasing prices call for increasing industry and increasing thrift. It won't hurt any of us to "get up and hustle" or to take a tuk in our style of living. There is small excuse for waste, prodigality or indolence.

It behooves every housewife to study household finance. A woman can "throw out with a teaspoon as fast as a man can shovel in." The thrifty housewife understands something about marketing, canning of foods, sewing, cooking, how to select a house with reference to the needs of her family, the best textiles for endurance and appearance, budget making, laundry methods, dietetics and health, work efficiency and labor saving. It means something to be "queen of the home" besides wearing a coronet or wielding a scepter.

Fashions, Fads, Foibles

Skirts are becoming extremely short again—shorter than the last time we had such a spell of abbreviation. Some predict that they will not stop shrinking from the pavement until they have gone above the knees. Five years hence we will smile at our photographs of today and say: "Did we actually wear 'em THAT short?"

The jumper dress will be popular, with a guimpe and separate jacket or bolero. Shoulders continue square and built-up. Skirts will be flared and full, perhaps with plaits which are not pressed but fall loosely. Materials are soft and feminine.

The newest fashion note appears in coats which are fitted like dresses; swirling skirt, blouse top and distinct, snug waistline, marked with an attractive belt. A few straight-line coats are still around. Fur may or may not trim the season's coats.

Washing Lace

To wash fine lace, make a suds in a fruit jar, soak the lace in this overnight, then shake it vigorously. If not clean by this process, squeeze it, but do not rub, as this will loosen or pull the threads. Rinse thoroughly in several waters, still shaking the fruit can. Add a little bluing to the last rinse water. Lace may be dried by wrapping it around a glass bottle.

Very fine laces are best basted on cheesecloth for washing or have them drycleaned, as washing thickens them slightly. To stiffen lace, rinse in borax water or use gum arabic, one teaspoonful to two quarts of water.

Food Ideas

Add chopped parsley to broiled, buttered carrots.

Beat mashed potatoes until they are creamy, add seasonings and grated cheese and bake until a delicate brown.

Season lemon gelatin with the juice of three lemons and one orange and add two sliced bananas. Fruit juices give an acceptable tartness.

The greater the number of eggs in a cake, the greater is its chance of failure. Simple, one, two or three-egg cakes usually stand up and give a good account of themselves.

Add horseradish to white sauce and use as a dressing for vegetables, as for green beans, spinach, cabbage or carrots; or to accompany fish, toast, potatoes, or meat loaf. Poach eggs in this sauce.

As a filling for sandwiches combine a half cup each of canned chicken, chopped cooked ham and ped eggs and salad dressing to make into a paste.

Pea Soup

Dried split pea soup is a nourishing, inexpensive dish and may be made very delicious. Soak the peas overnight, drain, and cook until tender in plenty of water. For seasoning, add onion, celery, parsley, bay leaf, salt, pepper and a dash of red pepper. Ham bones may be cooked with it or the fryings from ham added for fat. Otherwise add butter or substitute. This may be served "as is" or may be strained. Milk may be added.

To Clean Zinc

A zinc table top or sink may be cleaned so it will look bright and new. Rub it hard with a cloth wet with kerosene. You may have to repeat the process a time or two to clean it completely. If it is very dirty or has been long neglected and will not respond to this treatment, make an alum mixture by boiling a quart of vinegar and stirring into it two ounces of powdered alum. Apply this very hot. If any of the mixture is left, put it into a tightly corked bottle and save it for another attack.

French Dressing

To mix quickly a French dressing, put all the ingredients into a bottle or fruit jar which closes tightly and shake it well for five minutes. Set the jar in the refrigerator until time to serve the dressing and then shake again before using.

The Dust Mop

To recondition a soiled and dried dustmop, wash it by dipping it up and down in the hot suds left on wash day. Dry in the air and sunshine. Re-oil it by wrapping tightly about it a piece of cheesecloth which has been dipped into a saucer of liquid wax until it has taken up all the wax. Leave the cheesecloth wrapped about the mop until the oil has been transferred to the mop.

Mrs. Solomon Says:

Instead of telling Johnny that the soup is good for him, call it Shirley Temple Suey and he'll eat it. A little drama helps. And why not spice up your own life with a little drama, too?
